
Sleepless nights!!!!!!

Contributed by Asif Dange

Talking about those days when there were no mosquito repellents and we had to spend sleepless nights. Babban was also experiencing the same every time he tries to sleep ,one mosquito comes and disturbs his sleep with a sound "guooonn, guooonn." He gets very irritated.
.He tries to cover his ear but the problem remains persistent. Ultimately he gets up and catches the mosquito in his hand. He is very kind and not for the blood shed but still wanted to take revenge. Happy as he is now starts singing a lullaby and says "so ja machchar, bete so ja". After some time he finds the mosquito falling in to deep sleep in his hands. So he goes near it and says "Guooooonnnn, guooooonnnn."
